FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Love takes its usual beating when the Lesbian/Gay Chorus of San Francisco presents its annual anti-Valentine's Day cabaret, "Love Bites the Hand That Feeds It," on February 9 and 10, at 8 p.m. on the Main Stage at Theatre Rhinoceros, 2940 16th Street at South Van Ness in San Francisco.

Emceed by its own "Soprano with a Whip" Carolyn Eidson, the chorus performs selections that run the gamut, from the 70-year-old Broadway tune "Down With Love" to Tom Lehrer's catchy ditty "I Got It From Agnes" to the "Neighbors' Chorus" from the comic opera La Jolie Parfumeuse. LGCSF is proud to showcase the world premiere of "Your New Stupid Boyfriend," written by Bay Area composer Jack Curtis Dubrowsky.

Under the direction of Stephanie Lynne Smith and featuring original "choralography" by Kirk Johnson, "Love Bites" is a unique experience, where depravity and fun go hand in hand. Both evenings feature a variety of solo, duet, and group performances and will also include a 50/50 raffle. Concessions are available for a donation. Saturday night features a live auction. Don't miss this event!

Tickets are $15 to $30, sliding scale, and may be purchased directly from the Theatre Rhino box office, 415-861-5079 or online at www.therhino.org.

Theatre Rhino is reachable by BART (16th and Mission station), Muni underground and surface lines 14, 22, and 33. Street parking is available on South Van Ness between 14th and 16th Streets, and there is a parking garage on 16th Street between Mission and Valencia.
